UNDER GRAVE CHARGE

DR. JOSEPH C. OHLENDORF COM-MITTED TO MARLBORO' JAIL.

Under Indictment for Causing Death of Margaret Hale, November 24 Last.

Witnesses went before the grand jury at Jpper Marlboro', Prince George's county, Md., yesterday and told the story of the death of Miss Margaret Hale at the Brentmar Institute, near Brentwood, the 24th of November of last year. It was late in the day when the grand jury investigation was completed and a warrant for alleged murder was subsequently sworn cut against Dr. Joseph C. Ohlendorf on representations made by Detective Charles A. Evans of this city, and upon his testimony and that of thers before the grand jury. Sheriff Middieton and Deputy Sheriff Dove went from the office of Magistrate Ridgeley with the warrant, expecting to find the doctor at his ome, but they met him instead at the station of the Chesapeake Beach railroad. He had arrived there with about two hundred neighbors on a special train. The men went to the county seat for the purpose of de-claring their intention of becoming perma-nent residents of the county in order that they may vote at the election next year.

Dr. Ohlendorf was equally surprised upon being informed of the grand jury's action as he had been exonerated by the coroner's jury and the last grand jury seemed to have paid no attention to the case. The doctor said nothing when placed under arrest, ex-cept to ask Sheriff Middleton if he might be permitted to give bond for his appearance. The sheriff informed him he could not furnish bond on so serious a charge and took him to the county jail.

Allegations Before Magistrate. Miss Margaret Hale, the alleged victim in the case, died in the Brentmar Institute after she had been there ten days. She lived in this city and was employed in the government printing office. Her former home was at Marletta, Ohio. It was alleged at the inquest held by Magistrate Carr that the woman's death was not due to natural causes. A number of witnesses were examined and the doctor was exonerated. I'wo days after the death of the young woman, Robert Hale, also an employe of the government printing office, ended his own life, at his home in this city. He had been suspected of being the author of the young woman's trouble, and a note was left by him in which he stated that he had disgraced his family. At the printing office it was belleved he and Miss Hale were cousins. The man had made such a claim, but relatives of the woman denied that any relationshir existed between them. Detectives Evans and Baur made an investigation of the case at the time of her death and both officers were examined by the grand jury at Marl-

Former Charges Against Ohlendorf. Dr. Ohlendorf has been arrested in this city twice since the affair of a year ago. Each time the complaint was made against nim by Detective Proctor, who charged that he practiced medicine in this city without first having obtained a license. On the occasion of his first arrest he forfeited $50 collateral in the Police Court. The next time a charge was preferred against him he demanded a jury trial and the case is now pending in the Police Court.

TO MEET AT BIRMINGHAM.

Convention Called of the National Association of Railway Commissioners. By authority of the fifteenth annual of Railway Commissioners, held in Portland, Me., in July, 1903, a call for the next annual meeting has been issued by Edward A. Moseley, secretary of the association and of the interstate commerce commission. The meeting will be held in Birmingham, Ala., November 15 next, and it is expected will be attended by a commissioner from every state.

Committees have been appointed to con-sider and report to the next convention on the following subjects: Classification of operating and construction expenses of electric railways; grade crossings; railroad taxes and plans for ascertaining fair valuation of railroad property; classification of eperating and construction expenses of steam railways; uniform classification and simplification of tariff sheets; railroad statistics: legislation; exfert as railroad statistics; legislation; safety ap-pliances and block signals; delays attendant upon enforcing orders of railway commissions; rates and rate making.

PERMITTED TO RETURN.

Consul Morgan Unable to Take Up His Post at Dalny.

Mr. Edwin V. Morgan, who was last winter designated United States consul at Dalny but who was never able to take his post because it was in the midst of the theater of war, has cabled the State Department from Shiakwan for permission to return to the United States, and this has been granted. Mr. Morgan was one of three consular officers dispatched at the same time to Manchuria and Korea to open up new consulates, but opposition from the gov-ernment in possession and war operations prevented each and all of them from reach ing their destination. But the State Department was able to employ them all advantageously in other eastern consulates.

Mr. Morgan was for some time at Nieuchwang as assistant to Consul General Miller. Before going to China he was confidential secretary to Third Assistant Secretary Peirce of the Department of State, with whom he had been associated as secretary when Mr. Peirce was stationed at the United States embassy at St. Peters-

The Value of Charcoal.

FEW PEOPLE KNOW HOW USEFUL IT IS IN PRESERVING HEALTH AND BEAUTY. Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is th safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in ature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing pur-of it the better; it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system. Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, vegetables.

Charcoal effectually clears and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic. It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfects the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh. All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges; they are composed of the finest powdered Willow charcoal, and other harmless antiseptics in tablet form or rather in the form of large, pleasant tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with The daily use of these lozenges will soon tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and onrer blood, and the beauty of it is, that no ossible harm can result from their continued use.

but, on the contrary, great benefit.

A Buffalo physician in speaking of the benefits of charcoal, says: "I advise Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels, and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat; I also believe the liver is greatly benefited by the daily use of them; they cost but 25 cents a box at drug stores, and although in some sense a patent preparation, yet I believe I get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets."

A THE PERSON OF PERSONS

RECEIVES HIGH HONOR IN BUSINESS SESSION

Rev. Dr. McKim Chairman Managers of the Boys' Briof House of Deputies gades Meet This Morning.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH OFFICERS RE-ELECTED

POPULAR CLERGYMAN OF THE ADDRESS OF WELCOME BY COM-WASHINGTON DIOCESE.

The Successor of Prominent Divines in Response by Lieut. Gen. Bopea Position of Importance to the Church.

The election of Dr. Randolph H. McKim, D. D., rector of Epiphany Church of this city, to the post of chairman of the house of deputies of the Protestant Episcopa Church of America, in Boston, last Thursday, is most gratifying to the friends of the eminent divine. For almost forty years Dr. McKim has been one of the prominent clergymen in the Episcopal Church in this country. He has distinction through his attitude toward several questions of national moment, and his election is claimed to be a great victory for the adherents of the low church idea in America. For many years past he has been looked upon as one of the best authorities on all matters relating to the church and church history. He has published several volumes and pamphlets of sermons and essays setting forth his beliefs and deductions.

Dr. McKim is not a low churchman in the but is rather a "broad" churchman, who believes there should be no discussion or difference as to the form and manner of worship, and who would meet both the mon ground and endeavor to eliminate all Locally Dr. McKim is one of the mos popular and best beloved of clergyman. He was born in Baltimore April 15, 1842. and was graduated from the University of Virginia in 1861. He entered the confederate military service immediately after his grad-uation and attained some distinction as a member of the staff of Gen. J. E. B. Stuart, the famous cavalry leader of the confederacy.

Ordained in 1865.

At the close of the war Dr. McKim took course in the Virginia Theological Seminary, near Alexandria, and was ordained a priest in the Episcopal Church in 1865. He was rector of St. John's Church in Portsmouth, Va., a short time after his ordination: but soon came to Christ Church, Alexandria, where he served as rector several years. From Alexandria he was called to New York, where for a period he had charge of Holy Trinity parish in Harlem. From there he went to Trinity Church in New Orleans, where he was serving as rec or when he was selected for Epiphany par ish, this city, in 1888. In 1871 he received Washington and Lee University of Vir-

The work of Dr. McKim in this city ha been most successful. The parish of Epiph-any is the largest in the diocese of Washngton, and is the third or fourth largest in the United States, having more than two thousand communicants. Toward holding together this large organization and keep-ing it growing the rector has bent his greatest efforts.

An Old Parish.

Epiphany is one of the oldest parishes n the city. Bishop Paret of Maryland was formerly its rector. Dr. McKim, who is the seventh rector, succeeded Rev. rganization of the diocese of Washing ton in 1895 the rector and members of Eniphany Church were most influential in finally deciding the question as to whether or not the diocese should be or-ganized, and when the matter of securing the endowment therefor was brought up Dr. McKim and his congregation worked hard toward raising the fund and made the largest contribution thereto of any when the time came for the selection of a bishop for this diocese Dr. McKim who was chairman of the standing committee of the diocese and chairman of the committee on foreign and domestic missions As rector of the Epiphany he has acted as host to a number of distinguished gatherings, the most notable of which was the triennial convention of the episcopate of America six years ago.

Dr. McKim is a close student of history and has been called upon to give ad-dresses of an historical character before patriotic and other societies. He is a prominent member of the Sons of the American Revolution and for several years was chaplain of the local chapter: Student though he is. Dr. McKim finds time fo pleasure, and is one of the most enthusiastic exponents of the great game of golf in the District, spending as much time as possible on the links. He is a member of the Cosmos Club and of several literary and historical societies.

Highest Gift Clergy Can Bestow.

The position to which Dr. McKim has been elected is the highest within the gift of the clergy in the Episcopal Church outside of the house of bishops. The governing body of the church meets every three years, as is well known, for the purpose of legislating for the church. This legislation is carried through by means of two bodies. One of these, the house of bishops, is made up of the bishops of the church, and the other is called the house of deputies and includes in its membership four clergymen and four laymen from each diocese and one clergy-man and one layman from each missionary jurisdiction.

The house of deputies elects its chairman at every meeting. For many years prior to the last convention in San Francisco Rev. Dr. Dix of Trinity Church, N. Y., was chairman of the house of deputies. At the San Francisco convention Dr. Dix declined re-election, and Rev. Dr. Charles Lindsay of St. Paul's Church, Boston, was elected. Dr. Lindsay died during the past year, however, and at the meeting of the convention Thursday Dr McKim was chosen. He will probably remain chairman of the house of deputies as long as he desires to occupy the posi-

The British House of Commons.

A Retiring Member, in the National Review. The fallacy that the house of commons i the best club in London is probably exploded by this time. It would be difficult to imagine any place much less like a club. No self-respecting club would endure the members' smoking room for a week. In the winter, unless there is anything of particular interest on in the house, it is too crowded for members to be able to find seats. In the summer it is insufferably hot and stuffy, and all the year round it is unwholesomely draughty. No club would stand the food which is served to members of the house of commons. Still less would any club stand the house of commons waiters. The permanent servants are excellent courteous, civil and obliging. But the large number of members who have to lunch and dine at the house very frequently renders it impossible to keep enough good permanent servants to attend to every one, and the results are, to say the least, uncomfortable.

Perhaps nothing will leave a deeper impression on the mind of the member when he has finally retired from the house of commons than the deadly dullness of the place. If members would consent to speak only when they had something to say, if they would remember that what may seem of great interest to themselves is simply a bore to every one else, and if they would content themselves with saying what they have got to say in as few clear words as possible, life in the house of commons would be less dull and far more work would be got through in far less time.

Nothing shows the extreme duliness of the house of commons more plainly than commons than the deadly duliness of the

the house of commons more plainly than the way in which members roar with laugh-ter at some trivial joke or incident in the house which would not raise a smile out-

MISSIONER MACFARLAND.

Parade to Take Place This Afternoon.

Officers of the United Boys' Brigades as embled this morning in the Mount Vernor Place Methodist Episcopal Church South for the purpose of hearing reports from the various divisions throughout the country and transacting such business as might come before them, as the general council of the organization. Representatives of brigades in over half of the states of the Union were present. Lieut. Gen. H. P. Bope of Pittsburg, commander-in-chief of the united body, presided.

Lieut. Gen. H. P. Bope, commander-in-chief: Major Gen. H. F. Spicer, command-ing the Pennsylvania diivsion, and Major Gen. W. H. Dexter, commanding the Dis-trict of Columbia and Virginia division, trict of Columbia and Virginia division, were received by President Roosevelt at the White House at noon today. They requested the President to review the brigade parade from his office steps as it passes along Jackson place this afternoon.

The President said he regretted that as he was going to be absent from the city at the time the parade would march by he would be unable to that the request. He sent his best wishes to the members of the organization, and spoke of his acquaintance with its work, of which he heartily approved.

The business of the morning began at 9:30 o'clock, and the time was taken up chiefly with an address of welcome by Commissioner Macfarland of the District of Co lumbia, who is on the advisory board of the local brigade, and a response by Gen. Bope; the reading of reports from the divisions by Adjt. Gen. John A. Clark of Pittsburg; the hearing of individual reports from companies through representatives present; the election of officers, and the consideration of miscellaneous matters ef-fecting the welfare of the organization. Commissioner Macfarland's address welcome was made at the opening of the meeting. At this time all the members of companies now in the city were present and heard the Commissioner. The younger ones and those not accredited as actual delegates to the convention then withdrew, leaving the older ones to conduct the bust-

Welcomed to District. Upon being introduced Mr. Macfarland

"You are heartily welcome here, because of the great good which your organization has done on both sides of the Atlantic. Henry Drummond, scholar and saint of Scotland, put an impress on this movement which has never faded. Its ideals, set forth by him, command our admiration and its achievements win our praise.

"The national capital is the ideal place for your meeting for every American boy ought to come here. Better than all books of history are the scenes and the men he will see in Washington and its surroundings. He will learn more here of our country's progress, more of patriotism, and he can get to all the libraries. He will learn, too, the duty of every American citizen to take a personal interest in the advancement of the national capital, which is the commonwealth of us all." General Bope responded earnestly, thank-ing the Commissioner for his welcome, and praising the city as a convention center.

Reports of Commanders, showed the organization to be prospering in fourteen or fifteen states, and in process of development in many more. The estimated total numerical strength of the United Boys' Brigades in America is near-

Toward the end of the meeting the ele tion of officers was held, resulting in the re-election of those whose terms expired at this time. Including those re-elected, the officers are as follows: Commander-inchief, Lieut, Gen. H. P. Bope; adjutant general, John A. Clark; assistant adjutant general, P. A. Fitzgerald; Maj. Gen. Percy A. Bridgham, commanding division of Mas-sachusetts and Maine: Maj. Gen. H. M. Mills, commanding division of Illinois; Col W. Allen Stryker, commanding division of New Jersey and Delaware; Maj. Gen. J. E. Pearson, commanding division of Maryland; Maj. Gen. E. W. Coles, commanding division of Nebraska and Kansas; Maj Gen. H. F. Spicer, commanding division of Pennsylvania; Maj. Gen. O. E. Perrigo, commanding division of Connecticut and Rhode Island; Brig. Gen. W. N. P. Dalley, commanding division of New York; Maj. Gen. Rev. William Hart Dexter, command-ing division of District of Columbia and ing division of District of Columbia and Virginia; Maj. Gen. W. G. Clyde, command-ing division of Ohio; Maj. Gen. H. E. Grimm, commanding division of Missouri; Col. G. Montague Butler, commanding di-vision of Colorado. The divisions of Wis-consin, Michigan, California and North Carolina have not yet been assigned the office of division commander.

Board of Trustees.

The board of trustees: Rev. W. N. P. Dailey, Albany, N. Y.; Col. A J. Logan, Pittsburg, Pa.; Dr. W. J. Holland, Pittsburg, Pa.; Mr. James A. Hus ton, Pittsburg, Pa.; Mr. Homer J. Lindsay, Pittsburg, Pa.; Mr. William McConway, Pittsburg, Pa.; Mr. Albert A. Horne, Pittsburg, Pa.; Mr. Albert J. Barr, Pittsburg, Pa.; Prof. J. A. Brashear, Pittsburg, Fa.; Gen. H. F. Spicer, Philadelphia, Pa., division commander, Pennsylvania; Gen. P.
A. Bridgham, Boston, Mass., Massachusetts and Maine; Gen. O. E. Perrigo, New Haven, Conn., Connecticut and Rhode Island; Prof. O. C. Grauer, Chicago, Ill.; Mr.
C. M. Schwab, New York.

During the forences the younger bear of

During the forenoon the younger boys of the brigade went the sightseeing rounds and enjoyed themselves immensely. At 3 p.m. all assembled on John Marshall place and formed in line for a parade up Pennsylvania avenue to Washington Circle, where they will be reviewed by Lieut. Gen. Bope and his staff

The procession will then go to Mount Ver-non place, where it will break up. The Minute Men of the District will act as the escort to the brigade. Several bands will participate also. The place of honor in the procession will be assigned to the "General's Own" Company, that commanded by Gen. Bope. It will march at the head of the procession in front of the general and his staff.

The Objects Explained. The presence of the Boys Brigades in this city has aroused gonsiderable interest in the nature and history of the organization, as well as its underlying purposes. A re-porter for The State in answer to questions along these lines, secured a statement from Lieut. R. D. Brown, commanding one of the Ohio companies, an officer who has been actively connected with the organiza-tion for some time. Light Brown said:

"The army of the hundred thousand for the advancement of Christ's kingdom among boys." Thus is described in brief the nature and object of the army of boy soldiers who have been invading the na-tional capital for the last two days. "The movement known as the Boys' Brigade originated in Glasgow, Scotland, twenty years ago, and is the outcome of years ty years ago, and is the outcome of years of effort on the part of men who were friends of the boy to find a satisfactory means by which he might be reached and helped. In the time which has elapsed since the organization of the first brigade the movement has spread as rapidly as its peculiar advantages became known, until how there are brigade organizations in every English-speaking country on the body that the states themselves bear to the Union. Union.

"The exercises which have been held during the past few days give a good idea of the work of the brigade companies, but the limited opportunity which a short convention affords has made it impossible to include even a large part of the many fea-tures of the work. The aim is to make it tures of the work. The aim is to make it include every means of spiritual, physical and mental development which can interest and benefit the boy, and the merely social and 'good-time' features are by no means omitted. It has been said that the Boys' Brigade includes everything in which a boy is interested, excepting the girls, and this single defect is being rapidly remedied by the organization of ladies' auxiliaries throughout the country."

The Competitive Drill.

Convention Hall was well filled with spectators, old and young, last evening, to witness the competitive drilling of the brigade companies for the Bope cup, and also how pital and signal drilling for cups offered by local business men. The hall was taste fully decorated with American flags and ting of various colors. The seats for ectators were arranged arou edge of an immense rectangle, in which the boys carried out their maneuvers.

Cold Storage Plant on the Isthmus.

Members of the isthmian canal commission have under consideration the matter of establishing a cold storage plant on the Isthmus of Panama. This procedure, it is said, is deemed necessary for the proper care of fresh foods used for the laborers and others now engaged in the construction work. It is understood that plans for a suitable plant have been submitted and that they are being gone over by the members of the commission.

Classification of Veterans in Agricultural Department Desired-Dr. Mitsukuri Presented.

Acting Postmaste General Wynne was in conference with President Roosevelt today as to Post Office Department matters, but not as to the vacancy in the head of the department. The estimates for the department for the fiscal year 1906 must be submitted to the President and the Secretary of the Treasury, and this was one of the subjects talked about. Mr. Wynne will prepare the estimates, and he has been instructed to keep them within reasonable limits. The estimates from the various departments will guide the President in the preparation of his annual message to Con-

al League of Republican Clubs, and James B. Reynolds, the national committeeman of the league, called on the President today and had a political chat with him. They have been to Indianapolis in attendance upon the annual gathering of the clubs and are on their way home. "Among the many delegates to the convention, said Mr. Reynolds, "there was nothing but hope and confidence as to the outcome in November. The western men were running over with confidence, and the eastern representatives felt perfectly sure. In Indiana we were told that the republicans would carry the state, although it was admitted that the democrats have an able state organization this time and are working hard to place the state in the democratic column."

The visitors told the President that the clubs would do splendid work for his election in Navember and he thanked them tion in November, and he thanked them.

Prominent Germans Received.

The President received a half dozen prominent officials and business men of Hamburg, Germany, who have arrived in this country to study municipal government, especially relating to fire matters. The party included H. Himmelheber, director of the municipal fire insurance of Hamburg: Richard Hempell, Robert Heidman, Adloph L. Westphalen, Andreas Fahr and Max Buerstenbinder, superintendent of the bureau of buildings in Hamburg. The party will spend some time in this country ice a number of laborers in the Department of Agriculture who have been working there some time. He said that most of them were veterans of the civil and Spanish wars, and were entitled to civil service classification. The U. V. U. will hold its annual encampment in St. Louis. October 12, 13 and 14, and President Roose velt asked Gen. Dyrenforth to convey his greetings to the veterans. The President said he would give the classification request consideration when he had time to do so. He has received many similar requests, and he may take them all up later. Dr. Mitsukuri Presented. Dr. Kakichi Mitsukuri, professor of zoology in the Imperial University at Tokyo, Japan, was presented to the President today by Mr. Takahira, the Japanese minister. Dr. Mitsukuri is one of the Jap-anese representatives at St. Louis. Other Callers. Senator Knox of Pennsylvania was in conference with the President today. Senator Knox will not make a campaign tour, but it is expected that he will deliver one or two more speeches before election. One of these will be in New York. Major J. M. Wright, marshal of the United States Supreme Court, called to in-form the President that the court will meet in fall session next Monday and that it will pay its usual call of respect.

Gen. J. C. Black, civil service commissioner, discussed some civil service matters with the President.

Quentin Roosevelt's Pumpkin. Quentin Roosevelt, the baby of the President's family, is absorbed in rigging up a bugaboo out of a pumpkin. Where he got the pumpkin is not known, but the chances are that the steward of the White House is short one of his regular supply. At any

"I will do it if you want me to, but I want to tell you that I won't be able to make you a good face," was the answer of

"Sergeant, I would like to get you to cut the officer.

"Well, I will keep going until I get a policeman who can cut a face in it," was the comment of the youngster and he went that all of them were poor artists in per-feeting the features of humankind out of a pumpkin. He gave up in disgust. Well, I'll take the pumpkin down to the stable and somebody down there will cut it," said the Roosevelt baby, and he went down to the stable in his new wagon, with the pumpkin in his possession. He came back shortly afterward with the pumpkin hellowed out, and mouth, eyes and ears all away. He saw several policemen and found

Roosevelt yesterday, made this statement before leaving the city: "I had a very pleasant and satisfactory conversation with President Roosevelt. It related to the general political situation, with particular reference to that in New York state.

"I think there is no doubt that President Roosevelt will carry New York by a substantial plurality, and I told him so. There is no disguising the fact, however, that a sharp contest is being made on the republican state ticket, but I am entirely hopeful as to the result. Mr. Higgins, the candidate for governor is a charming and able date for governor, is a charming and able man, and would give the people of New York an excellent administration.

"The President desired to talk to me about the situation in the state, in which he, very naturally, is deeply interested. He he, very naturally, is deeply interested. He wanted my views, and I gave them to him. There is one thing I wish you would make clear. The subject of the Postmaster Generalship was not mentioned at the conference. I received an invitation to visit the President the day Mr. Payne died. Of course, it never entered the mind of the President to offer me the vacant place, and it did not occur to me that he might offer it to me. There never was the slightest found. to me. There never was the slightest foundation for the rumor, and I took occasion to say so last night in New York.

PREPARATIONS TO BEGIN ITS FOURTH YEAR'S WORK.

Managers Make Appeal to Public for Subscriptions to Guarantee

The Washington Symphony Orchestra. Reginald de Koven, conductor, is planning for the inauguration of its fourth season. Mr. S. L. Wrightson and Miss Katie V. Wilson, who are managing the affairs of the orchestra, have prepared a statement to the public, in which they call attention to the fact that the members of the orchestra have been engaged on a regular salary, insuring to Washington a permanent musical organization.

The statement is an appeal to the musicloving public for subscriptions to the guarantee fund. It says that the three years during which the orchestra has existed have witnessed a marked advance in the importance of the work done.

"The support given the orchestra by the Washington public last year," say the managers, "Indicates appreciation of the desire to found a great orchestra, second to none in the country. But there is a further obligation due the board of directors, who burden the financial corner stone of the burden the financial corner stone of the enterprise, and whose gratuitous work alone makes it possible, who this season have unreservedly sanctioned the plans of the management, which embody a large increase of cost. This obligation rests on all of our citizens who have at heart the artistic and educational growth of Washington, and it can be paid, each according to his means, by subscribing to the guarantee fund.

"Quality is sought in every department of the work. The players are chosen from the best available sources in this country, and the soloists invited to co-operate with the orchestra are of the highest rank in the artistic world. Reginal de Koven is conducter, and the board of directors, considering the value of his heroic work worthy of a greater effort on their part to secure for him a body of musicians who would be entirely at his disposal, have engaged fifty men on salary, thus creating for Washington a permanent orchestra. The cost of this outlay for the orchestra alone amounts to $28,000, and the additional expenses, including soloists, total up the net cost of the orchestra to $38,000 for this season. Mr. de Koven has again come for ward and has governed. season. Mr. de Koven has again come for-ward and has generously offered his serv-ices free of charge to conduct the sym-phony concerts.

"Other cities support permanent orchestras and pay their conductors anywhere from $7,000 to $10,000 a year. Washington is offered for this coming season as fine an orchestra as there is in the country, and Mr. de Koven should be supported in his noble efforts. The three years of unremitting service as given in the rehearsals and concerts of the Washington Symphony Orchestra have demonstrated his possession of pre-eminent qualifications for the reminent. of pre-eminent qualifications for the position of conductor

NORTHWEST CITIZENS

NEEDS OF THAT SECTION OF THE CITY DISCUSSED.

Meeting of Association is Addressed

by Messrs. Bulkley, Townsend,

Lancaster and Others. The Citizens' Northwest Suburban Association resumed its regular meetings last night after a recess extending over the summer months. The meeting was called to order Masonic Hall, Tenleytown. After the usual .routine business had been disposed of the need of various suburban improvements was discussed vigorously. Among the speakers of the evening were Barry

Bulkley, Louis P. Shoemaker, H. H. Twombley and E. B. Townsend. Mr. C. C. Lancaster referred to the budget of estimates which the executive committee had forwarded to the Commissioners for consideration and recommendation to Congress. He advised the meeting that the Commissioners had granted the citizens of the vicinity a hearing on Tuesday morning, and that at that time projects for the improvement of Tenleytown would be presented. Because of the failure of the Commissioners to provide certain improvements Mr. Lancaster arraigned them bitterly. He said it was high time the people were fight-ing such "high-handed" business and that the citizens were going before them to offer an urgent appeal to secure these improve James L. Tate came to the defense of the District Commissioners. He did not intend to see the Commissioners attacked for something for which they were not responsible. He claimed that certain subordinate officers in the District government were to blame for the present condition of affairs.

Prof. W. P. Ireland then secured the floor and diverted the attention of the cfti-zens to the need of better school facilities. He offered a statement showing that in the Tenleytown school there are sixty-four children, with only forty-eight seats to ac-commodate them. He also stated that a first grade teacher should be provided. A committee, consisting of McComas Haw-kins, Prof. Ireland and James Finch, was appointed to bring the matter before the appointed to bring the matter before the board of education. The proposition to locate a school building at Grant and Chapel roads was presented in the form of a petition and indorsed.

Commissioners Thanked. The superintendent of sewers and also the inspector of plumbing were commended in a set of resolutions for recognizing the needs of the suburban section in their annual estimates to Congress. The Commissioners also were thanked for the prompt consideration given the association.

Mr. Shoemaker offered a few remarks with regard to the widening of the roads of Rock Creek Park and installing within the reservation an electric lighting system The matter was brought to a focus in the form of a resolution, which was adopted. E. B. Townsend, president of the M Pleasant Citizens' Association, was present and advised that the citizens of the Tenleytown section exercise more patience, and that good results would be felt. He referred to the present highways and im-provements to show that moderation must be shown in asking for improvements at the hands of the District Commissioners. Barry Bulkley and H. H. Twombley made short speeches. Mr. Bulkley discussed the question of suffrage for the District in some form and representation in Congress. Mr. Twombley spoke at length upon the needs of the schools in the District.

Fire in Rear of School Building. The sounding of an alarm from bex 96 about noon today summoned the fire department to the Birney public school building, on Nichols avenue, Anacostia. Hot ashes had started a blaze in the small building in rear of the school and about $100 damage was caused.

Cure for Asthma and Hay Fever.

The statements published below confirm the claim of Dr. Schiffmann that his remedy is an absolute cure for Asthma and Hay Fever. Mrs. Mary Zachery, Pleasant Hill, La., says: "I have found your Asthma Cure a permanent cure for Asthma, for which I used it 7 years ago. I have never d the slightest return of the trouble since. I have also found your remedy excellent in Bronchial affections." A Hay l'ever sufferer writes: "I have bad Hay Feyer for 14 years. I bought a package of your remedy (Schiffmann's Asthma Cure) of our druggist and due to its use this is the first summer that I have not been troubled." Mrs. Frank Guil-
